Welcome to Wharton!

Having left the comfort of your native country to study at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, you join a community of hundreds who have successfully managed the transition to life in the United States and greatly enjoyed their educational experiences.

You have at your disposal a robust support structure – ready and willing to assist. To help navigate this structure, the Wharton MBA Program Office of Academic Affairs has created this brief, informal handbook. Please note that this handbook should be used to compliment other invaluable resources that will help guide you through your time at Wharton. We recommend both The MBA Resource Guide and the Graduate and Professional Student Handbook as two valuable sources of information.

We are honored to welcome you into our proud community and pledge to do all that we can in the pages of this handbook and beyond to ensure your smooth transition to life as an MBA candidate at the Wharton School.

Academic Resources

For general questions about academics, scheduling, support and advice…

Make your first stop for academic support, help or advice the MBA Program Office of Academic Affairs. For individual assistance, schedule an appointment with an academic advisor, using our appointment scheduler (link below) or stop by the MBA Program Office in 300 Huntsman Hall between 8:30 am - 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday for answers to your quick questions.

For your reference, the Office of Academic Affairs has published the Class of 2017 Resource Guide. This guide provides information to assist in planning your academic program and serves as an introduction to many of the facilities and resources throughout the University of Pennsylvania. The Resource Guide is available in print form but may also be accessed online. This guide will help to answer many of your questions but the office’s friendly team of academic advisors is always ready to assist, clarify or translate any of the information within.

For course materials…

Readings and other materials for courses are available through Wharton Printing. Wharton Printing also manages the School’s relationship with Study.net; an online resource used to manage the distribution of course readings and packets. A “Course Materials Fee,” assessed through your tuition bill, covers most of the course-related reading materials supplied through this resource.

For Wharton’s online learning resources…

"SPIKE"

Electronic communication tools are an integral part of the curriculum at the Wharton School. SPIKE is a collection of specialized, online tools for student communication. Through SPIKE you can access the central Wharton calendar, reserve Group Study rooms, look-up course descriptions, search the Wharton student and alumni community and access a wealth of information on the MBA Program page.

Website: spike.wharton.upenn.edu

Canvas

Canvas is a series of “virtual rooms” on the internet where Wharton faculty, students and staff conduct academic work and collaborate on projects. If a class in which you are enrolled chooses to use Canvas, you will be informed by an instructor or through the syllabus and permission to access the class will be granted automatically. You can access those courses that you have permission to view through the “Courses” tab.

Obtaining a Social Security Number
A Social Security Number (SSN) is a nine-digit number issued to U.S. citizens, permanent residents, and temporary residents. Among other things, it is needed to gain employment in the U.S. Note: a Social Security number will only be granted for if needed for employment.

What you need to apply for an SSN:
1) A completed Social Security Card Application (Form SS-5). The form can be found here: http://www.socialsecurity.gov/forms/ss-5.pdf.
2) I-20 or DS-2019
3) Passport, visa stamp, 1-94 card
4) Letter from on-campus employer (optional)

Take or mail all documents to the local Social Security Office:
The Social Security Card Center for Philadelphia Residents:
Address: 2 Penn Center, Suite 2000B
1500 JFK Boulevard
Philadelphia, PA 19102
Hours: Monday-Friday, 9 am – 3:30 pm
Social Activities

The Wharton Graduate Association (WGA)

The Wharton Graduate Association (WGA) is the MBA program’s student government. The WGA provides monetary and logistical support for many student events including Wharton Follies, the International Cultural Show, Cohort Paintball and many more. The Association oversees more than one hundred student-organized clubs and dozens of conferences.

Website: http://groups.wharton.upenn.edu/wga/home/

GAPSA

The Graduate and Professional Student Assembly (GAPSA) is the official student government body for graduate and professional students at Penn, representing over 10,000 students across twelve graduate schools. GAPSA plans a range of social activities to bring students across Penn’s 12 grad schools together.

http://gapsa.upenn.edu/

The Graduate Student Center

The Graduate Student Center was established to meet the unique needs of graduate and professional students at Penn. The Center empowers graduate and professional students to create and participate in a graduate community at Penn, transcends school and department affiliations, facilitates cross-disciplinary and cross-cultural exchanges through intellectual and social programs and provides graduate and professional students with a centrally-located home that includes a lounge, computer lab and meeting/event space.

Address: 3615 Locust Walk

The WGA sponsors a number of clubs that focus on specific countries, regions and cultures. These clubs help form bonds between students with similar backgrounds while introducing fellow students to the rich diversity present in each class. Clubs include…

- African Students Association
- Australia/New Zealand Club
- Europa!
- Greater China Club
- Israel Club
- Korea Club
- MENA Club
- Asia Club
- Canada Club
- Francophone Club
- India Club
- Japan Club
- Latin American Students Organization
- Southeast Asia Club
Banking
You may wish to open a bank account as soon as possible. Even without a Social Security number (SSN), you should be able to open an account and get a debit or a check card. A check card is basically a debit card with a Visa logo that can be used to make purchases. Getting a credit card may be more difficult because, as an international student, you probably don’t have a credit history in the United States. If you have difficulty obtaining a credit card, talk with a customer service representative at your bank and ask them if they offer a “secure credit card” or if they can offer some other suggestions or assistance to help you establish a credit history.

The University of Pennsylvania encourages students to enroll in direct deposit to expedite payments from University employment or refunds from financial aid. You may enroll online at www.sfs.upenn.edu. The checking or savings account tied to direct deposit must be with a U.S. financial institution; accounts in foreign financial institutions are not accepted.

The following bank branches are located within a few blocks of campus and offer a wide range of financial services:

The Division of Public Safety

The University’s Division of Public Safety strives to deliver a comprehensive and integrated safety and security program to enhance the quality of life, safety and security of the Penn Community. The Division provides a wide variety of services including uniformed officer patrols, security escorts, car lock-out and jump-starts, self-defense courses, victim support and emergency preparedness.

On and Around Campus

Immediately upon arrival...
- Note the address and phone number of your nearest consulate or embassy: If you need help finding this information, ask the staff at the ISSS (see page 7)
- Familiarize yourself with campus: Walk around in the daylight; make yourself aware of “Blue Light” Emergency Phone locations
- Program emergency numbers into your phone: Be sure to include the Division of Public Safety’s emergency number – 215.573.3333 and the number for the walking escort service – 215.898.9255

Daily safety tips...
- Do not “walk and talk” on your cell phone: Talking on a cell phone distracts from your surroundings and makes you an easier target for would-be criminals.
- Do not walk alone at night: Walk in groups of three or more people after dark. If forced to walk alone around campus, use Penn’s free walking escort service by calling 215.898.9255. This service does not extend into Center City.
- Do not let anyone follow you into a secured building: Some students, faculty and staff have restricted access to facilities after hours. If a member of the University community is meant to have after-hours access, he or she will have the appropriate permissions programmed into his or her PennCard.
- Do not prop doors: Propped doors are how people who don’t belong in buildings gain access.
- Report a crime if you are a witness or victim: Crimes may be reported confidentially through our Special Services department by calling 215.898.4481.
- Call the Division of Public Safety or the police if you notice something suspicious: Many crimes are prevented by phone calls about suspicious activity.

On-Campus Emergency Phones

Emergency telephones are available to the University community throughout Penn's campus and are a direct connection to the University Police Department. These phone sets are sometimes referred to as "blue light phones," for the blue lights mounted above them to draw attention to their locations. Penn's Division of Public Safety monitors and maintains these telephone sets.

Two types of blue light phones are available: a cradle phone and a push button phone. Push button blue light phones may also serve as building entrance devices. Users may either call a phone extension inside a building or press the emergency button to immediately be connected with Penn's police.
Safety (continued)

Crimes and Scams

The most common crime that happens on and off campus is theft of property left unattended or in an unlocked room, car, or apartment. More serious crimes, such as identity theft, robbery, drug dealing, assault and rape, also occur. You can help protect yourself by exercising good sense and caution:

- Do not leave personal belongings unattended: Books, bags, purses, laptops and especially iPads make easy opportunities for thieves.
- Exercise caution when using an ATM: Use an ATM inside of a bank or University building. Try not to withdraw cash from an ATM on the street and do not count your money in public.
- Protect sensitive information: Unless you have initiated a transaction with a source you know and trust, never give anyone your credit card number, bank account number or Social Security number.
- Be wary of internet scams: No reputable source will ever ask for passwords, credit card numbers or other sensitive information via email. Secure sites that collect or request such information will always be encrypted. Secure, encrypted web addresses begin https://.
- Do not carry large amounts of cash: Use credit or debit cards, checks or money orders when making large purchases. Handbags should be tucked under your arm; wallets kept in the front pocket of your pants.
- Do not use your passport as ID: Obtain a driver’s license or state identification card as soon as possible (see page 12). Once you have this document, leave your passport safely at home. Many bars and restaurants will request age verification before they will serve alcohol – a Pennsylvania driver’s license or state ID will suffice.
- Avoid confrontations: If approached by someone demanding your money or personal belongings while threatening to do you harm, do not resist. Get to safety and inform the police and Penn Public Safety as soon as possible.
- Be careful around strangers: Take care around those who may appear overly friendly, who offer you money or who ask you to accompany them to an unknown place. If you are reluctant in the face of a request just say, “I am sorry, but I cannot help you,” and walk away.

Safety at Home

- Keep your doors and windows locked: Lock all exterior doors at night and while away. Keep windows not in use locked.
- Demand identification: Do not open your door to strangers unless they have presented official identification and never “buzz” someone you do not know or were not expecting into your apartment building.
- Don’t prop doors: Never prop open a door to let “friends” in. This is especially important in apartment buildings which require keyed access.
- Be wary of phone scams: If you are called on the phone and are not interested in or do not understand the caller, just interrupt, say “No thanks,” and hang up.

Domestic Violence

Violence against a spouse or partner is Domestic Violence and is a crime in the United States. Some cultures believe that all domestic matters, especially those that occur within the home, are private matters but in the United States, these matters cease to be private when a person uses or threatens physical violence. Violent assault by a spouse or partner is a criminal act.

If you are a victim of domestic violence seek help immediately through any of the following resources:

The University of Pennsylvania’s Division of Public Safety – Department of Special Services

Phone: 215.898.4481
- or- 215.898.6600

Transportation

Why you should apply for a Pennsylvania driver’s license (even if you don’t have a car)…

Drivers’ licenses (or state Photo IDs) are useful forms of identification. They are easier to transport (and replace, if lost) than a passport and can serve as an age verification documents at places like bars, restaurants and casinos. For more information on obtaining a driver’s license or state photo ID, refer to this handy guide published by the ISSS http://www.upenn.edu/oip/issb/penndot.

Public Transportation
Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA) provides bus, trolley and train services in Center City Philadelphia and across the region. Below is some basic information to help navigate the public transportation system.

Phone – General Information: 215.580.7145
Website: www.septa.org

Penn Transit
The PennBUS East makes stops from campus to Center City. It picks up at 20th and Locust Streets in Center City, and the closest stop to Huntsman is in front of the Pottruck Center, just across the street. Shuttle hours are 5:00 pm to 12:00 am, Monday through Friday. You must show your Penn Card before getting on.

Website: cms.business-services.upenn.edu/transportation/

Buses, Subways & Trolleys
The base cash fare for bus, trolley and subway service is $2.25. Cash is accepted for travel on all services. Exact fare must be used. For longer trips (such as to King of Prussia or Valley Forge) the fee is higher. SEPTA tokens may also be used for fare and cost $1.80 each. Tokens may be purchased in the Penn bookstore, most SEPTA stations and Rite Aid pharmacies. The University provides discounted passes to current students: visit their website at www.upenn.edu/transportation to learn more. Weekly & monthly fare cards are also available for purchase through SEPTA. A full fare schedule and service map may be found at www.septa.org or use the Public Transportation mapping features at www.hopstop.com or maps.google.com.

Bus & Trolley Routes from Center City to Wharton
#21 Bus: Travels west along Walnut Street and stops at 38th St. and Walnut St.
#40 Bus: Travels west through Center City along Lombard Street and stops at 38th St. and Walnut St.
#s 11, 13, 34 & 36 Trolleys: Make stops at 36th and Sansom St. or 37th and Spruce St.

Trolley Stops in center city are found on Market St. at 22nd, 19th, 15th (Suburban Station) & 13th Sts.

Note: The number 10 trolley does not stop on Penn’s campus.

Amtrak
Amtrak trains depart from 30th Street, Station, located at 30th & Market Streets, bound for points including New York, Boston and Washington, DC. Amtrak is the only rail carrier that offers direct service from Philadelphia to Newark International Airport.

Phone: 1.800.872.7245

Inter-City Bus Service
Inter-city bus services like Bolt Bus www.boltbus.com and Mega Bus us.megabus.com are an increasingly popular and inexpensive way to travel between cities. Some services offer fares as low as $1 depending on how far in advance you book.

Ride-sharing Services
Ride-sharing services are a convenient way to get a ride from door to door. Both Uber and Lyft operate in Philadelphia and the surrounding area. Uber offers several ride options, that vary in price, from luxury cars and SUVs, to cheaper, non-luxury rides through its UberX service.
Transportation (continued)

Taxis
Taxis are a convenient and safe way to get around the city. Taxis can usually be hailed on Walnut Street in front of Huntsman Hall. The fare from Huntsman Hall to Center City ranges between $9.00 and $16.00. Fares start at $2.70 and increase based on mileage and time. Taxi fares are not changed based on the number of passengers. Visit www.taxifarefinder.com and enter “Philadelphia, PA” for an unofficial rate calculator and more information.

Bicycling
Many students use bicycles to get to and from campus. Bicycle riding is not permitted on sidewalks as they are considered vehicles according to Pennsylvania state law and are governed by the same rules of the road as cars. Bicycles are permitted on non-peak (that is, not during the rush hours) SEPTA trains. Many SEPTA busses are also equipped with bike racks and the Philadelphia area maintains hundreds of miles in bike lanes. For an interactive map, click here.

Riders should familiarize themselves with proper safety procedures before taking to Philadelphia’s busy roads. Penn’s Division of Public Safety is a great resource for rider safety; visit www.publicsafety.upenn.edu/bicyclesafety-information for more information.

You should always ride with proper equipment, including a helmet, a bell, a bike lock and lights/reflectors if you intend to ride at night. The following are great places to get equipped with bicycling gear and information:

Bicycle Coalition of Greater Philadelphia
The Bicycle Coalition is an organization serving bicycle riders throughout the Philadelphia area. They offer seminars, classes, maps and a wealth of other information.
Website: www.bicyclecoalition.org
Phone: 215.242.9253

Bike sharing: Philadelphia recently launched Indego, a bike share program, with 500 bikes at over 60 stations across the city. There are a multiple membership options to choose from; you can also pay per trip by credit card. For more detailed information, visit http://www.rideindego.com.

Bike Locks
If you plan on riding a bicycle to campus or around Philadelphia, then a sturdy bike lock is an absolute necessity. U-locks, like the kind pictured to the right, are usually the best option for city riders. Heavy chain locks offer good protection but are usually heavy and bulky to transport. Cable locks generally do not provide enough security on their own to deter theft. For more information, ask at your local bicycle shop or check out these useful pages on bike locks and procedures:

Maps
Whether you want directions or a bird’s-eye view of your neighborhood, most Americans turn to one of three online map services. All three offer directions by car, public transit and foot:

Google - maps.google.com
Bing! - www.bing.com/maps
MapQuest - www.mapquest.com

Car Sharing
Car sharing is a growing trend in cities across the United States. Users pay a low monthly or annual fee and then can rent cars by the hour or day. Cars are located at several convenient spots throughout the city. Gas and insurance are included in most packages. Discounts are offered to members of the Penn Community so ask if you sign-up. Travel beyond Philadelphia
There are a tremendous variety of travel sites available to consumers in the United States. Here are just a few of the more popular options for booking travel online.

www.priceline.com  www.cheaptickets.com
www.kayak.com  www.expedia.com

Airports
Philadelphia International Airport (PHL) is the closest though not always the cheapest option for air travelers. Many (especially those travelling abroad) shop the following options as well:

New York Area: Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR) & John F. Kennedy (JFK) International Airport

Getting to the Airport
SEPTA’s Airport Line departs Suburban Station for Philadelphia International Airport every ½ hour between 4:30am and 11:30pm.
Communications

Cable TV & Internet
The Philadelphia market is served primarily by two major cable TV and internet service providers: Comcast XFINITY and Verizon Fios. The service to which you have access may depend upon the building in which you live as most are wired for one service or the other. Check with your building’s landlord or manager to determine which service you have and what you must do to get access.

Cell Phones
Most of the nation’s top service providers are located near campus. UPenn partners with AT&T, Verizon, and Sprint to provide discounted services to students, and T-Mobile offers a plan with free international data.

Getting Settled

Philadelphia
The city of Philadelphia is arranged in a rough grid with Broad Street as the y-axis and Market Street the x-axis. The two axes intersect at City Hall in the heart of what is known as “Center City.” Four public parks evenly spaced mark the rough boundaries of Center City – Washington Square in the southeast, Rittenhouse Square in the southwest, Logan Square at the base of the Benjamin Franklin Parkway in the northwest and Franklin Square in the northeast.

University City
The University of Pennsylvania is located in a neighborhood known as University City. Learn more about University City and the many events it sponsors at universitycity.org.

Computers
The University of Pennsylvania’s campus computer retailer is Computer Connection. Students are not required to purchase products from Computer Connection though it may be a good place to start shopping if you haven’t already. Computer Connection is known among students for its impressive warranty and service offerings. If you are looking for buying advice, click on the “Computing” tab in SPIKE (spike.wharton.upenn.edu) to access Wharton Computing then select “Buying Advice” from the left hand navigational bar.

Renter’s Insurance
To protect your new home, you may want to obtain renter’s insurance. In addition to purchasing insurance that protects your personal property you can buy additional coverage for family liability protection (to pay for covered damages for which may be legally obligated), guest medical protection (to pay medical expenses for your guests who are accidentally injured on your property), and additional living expenses (in the event that you are injured and unable to work).

Some major insurance companies that offer renter’s insurance are:

Allstate - www.allstate.com/renters-insurance.aspx
Geico - www.geico.com/getaquote/renters/
Statefarm - www.statefarm.com/insurance/renters/renters.asp
National Student Services – www.nssi.com

National Student Services offers discounted insurance options for current students.

Food

Most Americans buy food in grocery stores – stores that carry a wide variety of food products including meat, fish, fruits, vegetables, frozen foods, etc.; convenience stores – stores designed to get consumers in and out quickly, they carry a more limited variety of food than grocery stores and are more suited for smaller purchases; wholesale clubs – huge stores that charge an annual membership fee and sell products in bulk; specialty stores – usually smaller stores that concentrate on food of a specific type or ethnicity; and, of course, restaurants.

Grocery Stores

Whole Foods
- Addresses: 20th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue -or- 10th and South Streets
- Website: www.wholefoodsmarket.com

Trader Joe's
- Address: 22nd and Market Streets
- Website: www.traderjoes.com

Super Fresh

The Fresh Grocer
- Address: 40th and Walnut Streets
- Website: www.thefreshgrocer.com

Convenience Stores

As you will learn, there are far too many of these stores to list here. We’ll point out a few.

Wawa
- Addresses: near campus: 38th and Spruce Streets, 36th and Chestnut Streets
- in Center City: 10th and Walnut Streets, 17th and Arch Streets
- Website: www.bjs.com

7-Eleven
- Addresses: 20th and Locust Streets

Old Nelson Food Market
- Addresses: 20th and Chestnut Streets, 30th Street Station

Food & Friends
- Addresses: 20th and Spruce Streets

Wholesale Clubs

Most of the wholesale clubs are located either outside or on the periphery of the city. You’ll probably need a car to get there and you’ll definitely need one to bring home whatever you buy because they sell everything in bulk.

BJ’s Wholesale Club
- Address: 2300 W. Oregon Avenue, Philadelphia, PA
- Website: www.bjs.com

Costco
- Address: 201 Allendale Road, King of Prussia, PA

Sam’s Club
- Address: 1000 Franklin Mills Circle, Philadelphia, PA
- Website: www.samsclub.com

Talk like a Philadelphian

Philadelphians have a language all their own – especially when it comes to food.

Hoagie
- A sandwich on a long roll split lengthwise and filled with meats, cheeses, vegetables and seasoning; known in other parts of the US as subs, grinders, heroes and torpedoes

Soda
- Carbonated drinks like Coca-Cola, Pepsi, Sprite, etc.

Cheesesteak
- A sandwich built on a long roll split lengthwise and filled thinly sliced pieces of steak and cheese

Water Ice
- One of Philadelphia’s favorite snacks, it is made of flavored, frozen, shaved ice.

Dining out in the United States

- BYOB means “Bring Your Own Bottle.” BYOBs do not serve alcohol but invite diners to bring their own.
- Good service is defined in part by constant attention from the waiter/waitress. This means that they should check on your satisfaction a couple of times while you are at the restaurant.
- If given a choice of tap, sparkling or spring water, it is perfectly safe and socially acceptable to choose to drink the tap water. Sparkling or Spring water comes at an extra charge while tap water is free.
- It is customary for the waiter/waitress to leave the check on the table shortly after the meal has ended. You may then choose to pay when you are ready.
- Some restaurants do not accept credit cards. If you plan to pay by credit card, check to see that yours will be accepted before placing your order.
- If you would like separate checks for each person, it is customary to make this request to the waiter/waitress before you order. Some restaurants offer this service and some do not.
- If you feel that you have received “good service”, a 15 to 20% gratuity is usually given to the waiter/waitress. You can leave the tip on the table in cash or you can add it on your credit card slip when you sign. Some restaurants include the gratuity in the check for larger groups.
- Make sure you bring identification if you plan to buy alcoholic beverages. Many places have strict policies

Family

Wharton partners (i.e. spouses, significant others, etc.) are integral parts of the Wharton community. We want them to have a memorable Wharton experience as well. To this end, the MBA Program Office helps organize a number of events that are both partner- and family-friendly.

Meeting other Wharton Partners

The Wharton Partners Club is a great way for partners to meet each other and share similar experiences or exchange information. The Partners Club holds several events and activities throughout the year.

The University of Pennsylvania Family Resource Center

The Family Resource Center at Penn is a hub for information, resources, activities, and advocacy for students and post-doctoral fellows with children. The Family Center provides a forum for parents to connect and develop supportive networks, and offers a welcoming environment for Penn students, post-docs, caregivers, and children.

Get a PennCard for your spouse/partner…

Spouses or domestic partners of University of Pennsylvania students are eligible for a Spouse/Partner PennCard. For more information on how to apply, visit www.upenn.edu/penncard.

Work for non-immigrant partners…

INS regulations allow no circumstances under which the spouse (F-2) of an F-1 student can apply for work permission while in the United States. The spouse (J-2) of a J-1, however, may apply to INS for permission to be employed if he or she can demonstrate a need for supplemental support for self or children. The spouse cannot obtain work permission in order to support the J-1 student. Contact International Student and Scholar Services for more information at oipadm@pobox.upenn.edu or www.upenn.edu/oip/iss for more information.

Family Friendly Philadelphia

Need something to do with the family during the weekend? Here are some daytrips suitable for kids of all ages:

- Independence National Historical Park - www.nps.gov/inde
  Experience the history of the United States of America from the place where it all began. At Independence National Park you can visit the sites where George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and their contemporaries laid the foundation of a country. Nearby are the National Constitution Center (constitutioncenter.org), the National Museum of American Jewish History (nmajh.org) and the Independence Seaport Museum (phillyseaport.org).

- The Please Touch Museum - www.pleasetouchmuseum.org
  The nation’s first museum to target families with children seven and younger has grown into one of the best children’s museums in the nation. With a focus on highly interactive exhibits, this museum is a great place for children to learn and explore.

- Sesame Place - www.sesameplace.com
  The world’s only Sesame Street-themed park is just a half-hour’s ride from Center City in Langhorne, PA. Spend the day with Big Bird, Elmo and the rest of the Sesame street crew as you child enjoys attractions designed for kids five and under.
